Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive: applicant argues that Chen does not teach a method; however the method is obviously ifferred whn viewing figures 7 and 9 which show a first skin attached and a second skin about to be attached to the foam; the method steps are very general; obviously one can only attach one skin at a time or attach them simultaneously; one method over another does not provide some unexpected result; further, the term precursor means to run ahead before, forerunner, a thng that goes before, harbinger, a predecessor according to random house dictionary; the first skin is attached to the foam forming precursor which is before the attachment of the second skin as shown in figures 7-8 of Chen; the claims are given their broadest reasonable interpretation.
